CIRMMT invites students and research-creators to submit single works or complete concert projects for the live@CIRMMT 2022-2023 concert series.

While we particularly welcome proposals from our student and research-creator members, we also invite former members, all affiliated institutions and others to submit applications. Projects must, however, highlight artistic research and creations developed and/or related to CIRMMT's mission. Our mandate covers a wide pool of creators and all artistic and aesthetic musical practices are welcome, including mixed music, electroacoustic music, videomusic, performance art, installations etc.
